

History & Political Science Major

- Degree Offered:
- History & Political Science
  - History & Political Science: Environmental Studies Specialization
  - Adolescent Education: Social Studies

Related Minors Offered in:

Criminal Justice, Pre-Law, Public History, Public Administration, History, Political Science, Political Communications, Women's Studies, Black Studies, and Atlantic Studies.

History and Political Science (HP) is a unique, interdisciplinary major that combines coursework in History and in Political Science. In addition to providing a solid grounding in both disciplines, the major offers you the flexibility to focus your coursework in either History or Political Science. We also offer the Adolescent Education: Social Studies major for students pursuing a teaching career at the high school level, and the History & Political Science: Environmental Studies Specialization for students pursuing a career in the area of environmental policy.

Course requirements emphasize the development of skills in demand in the workplace and graduate studies. Students will learn to analyze complex material and support their arguments. They will also develop strong research, writing, and presentation skills.

History and Political Science at Daemen:

- Our faculty prepare students for a range of career options.
- Required courses give you broad exposure to US and World history, and American, comparative, and international areas of political science.
- The History & Political Science major is ideal for the student who loves both history and political science and wants to continue to learn more about both.
- You will work directly with faculty members who are committed to teaching excellence.
- The capstone thesis requirement gives an opportunity to do in-depth research on a topic of your choice, applying the knowledge and skills you have acquired from your coursework.
- Students in the Adolescent Education: Social Studies specialization enjoy a close working relationship with our Education Department.

Our recent graduates include:

- Executive Director of the Somali Bantu Community Organization of Buffalo
- Customs Analyst at FedEx Trade Networks
- Operations Supervisor at Rich Products Corporation
- School Counselor at Pembroke High School
- Park Interpreter at Virginia State Parks
- Administrators at several local colleges
- Lieutenant in the Marine Corps
- Social Studies teachers in public and private high schools
- Attending the University at Buffalo School of Law

Learn more at the History & Political Science Department Blog:
<http://daemencollegehistoryandpolisci.blogspot.com/>

History & Political Science students gain real-world EXPERIENCE:

- The program stresses preparation for your future. All students are required to complete an internship to apply skills outside of the academic setting.
- The department will work closely with you and the Career Services Office to develop an internship related to your academic interests and career goals.
- A variety of opportunities are available from local and state organizations, with internships in American locations from Buffalo to Washington, D.C., as well as internationally.
- Students are also strongly encouraged to study abroad in an area of interest. The department will work with you and the Global Programs Office to explore opportunities abroad.

Career Options:

Our graduates are working in education (teaching and administration), library and archival science, museums, historical societies, historic preservation, law, law enforcement, business, government and community agencies, and many other areas.

did you know...

Our majors have completed internships at the Smithsonian Institution, Franklin D. Roosevelt Home (National Park Service), Kaleida Health Systems, and Erie County Legislature, U.S. Senate office (both for Chuck Schumer and Kirstin Gillibrand), and at the offices of a number of other local elected officials.

Ryan, History and Political Science

My experience at Daemen College in the History & Political Science Department can be described in one word: unparalleled. Professors like Dr. Wise, Dr. Messinger, and Dr. Wendland have gone above and beyond what is expected to help me excel here. I have had many exceptional opportunities, including a month studying abroad in Poland. As a high school student, I would never have thought that I would spend a whole month in a foreign country, studying and experiencing a different culture. The trip was an experience unlike any other for me and I am currently considering going abroad a second time. Besides my experiences so far, the History & Political Science Department has done an excellent job of preparing me for my possible future career plans, which include graduate studies in History or pursuing a career in public service. My opportunities and experiences as a History & Political Science major have without a doubt helped me achieve much more than I could have ever expected.

Daemen College students on Study-Abroad trip to Poland, July 2015. Ryan is on right.

For more information, contact Dr. Penny Messinger. Chair of the History & Political Science Department, at 716.839.8280 or, pmessing@daemen.edu