Erie County Parks Master Plan- Public Meeting and Comments Welcome

The Erie County Department of Parks, Recreation and Forestry in conjunction with the Erie County Department of Environment and Planning invite you to upcoming meetings to provide public input on the updated Erie County Parks Master Plan ("the Plan"). The Plan is intended to create a framework for preservation, enhancement and improvement of existing Parks assets and landscape settings over the next 15-20 years. The Plan development was guided by extensive public outreach which included a park user survey of 5,000 random county residents and seven stakeholder meetings with 65 stakeholder groups providing input. The Plan provides recommendations to improve each Park along with system-wide recommendations and guidance concerning partnerships to improve park maintenance and operations, improve public communications around park features and events, and preservation and restoration of natural systems and heritage features. Public meetings are planned for November 3 (10am to noon) at Ellicott Creek Park Friendship House, Creekside Drive, Tonawanda, NY 14150 and November 15th, 2018 (6:00 – 8:00 PM) at Como Lake Park Casino, 2220 Como Park Blvd, Lancaster, NY. The full plan can be reviewed here, with online public comment on the Plan accepted through December 17, 2018.

All are welcome with reservation. In the spirit of Thanksgiving sharing, you are welcome to bring a non-perishable (dry or canned – no glass please) food donation for people or pets for the Amherst Little Free Pantry hosted by the UU Church of Amherst.

Certified Arborist Preparatory Course

A Certified Arborist Prep course will be held January 21 through January 25, 2019 at the Buffalo Parks Olmsted Conservancy, Parkside Lodge, 84 Parkside Ave., Buffalo, NY 14214. An ISA Certified Arborist exam is also scheduled for Saturday, February 2, 2019, at the same location, for qualified candidates. This course will train employees and managers to become productive and safe in the field of arboriculture. Municipal employees, tree climbers, bucket operators, grounds men and supervisors will all benefit from proper professional training and development. Many municipal contract specifications now require a Certified Arborist certification to bid on contracts. Cost is $495 or $60 for individual sessions. For further information please contact: Glenn D. Gentzke, Certified Arborist, Registered Consulting Arborist at glennndny@yahoo.com.

Tree Planting Nears the 30,000 Goal

Re-Tree has neared its goal of planting 30,000 trees since the damaging October 2006 snowstorm. The non-profit founded by Paul Maurer hopes to have a celebration in April, 2019 to acknowledge the work of so many volunteers and organizations who have made this possible.

The Foundry Offers Hands-on Classes: Build your own Furnishings

Want a new skill? The Foundry, 298 Northampton St. in Buffalo, offers artisan classes including glass blowing, leatherworking, upholstery and woodworking. To check out the full list of classes, click here.

DEC Announces Shutdown of Coke Oven Production at Tonawanda Coke Facility

The New York State Department of Environmental Conservation announced the completion of the shutdown of the coke ovens at Tonawanda Coke on October 16, 2018. As the shutdown of operations is concluded, DEC and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency will be on-site to assess environmental conditions and address both the short- and long-term investigation and cleanup of contamination at the site. Tonawanda Coke Corporation filed for bankruptcy listing $10 million to $50 million in assets and $10 million to $50 million in debts. No funds will be available to pay unsecured creditors, according to the filing in U.S. Bankruptcy Court in Buffalo. DEC will continue to provide information and regular updates to the public on the progress of the shutdown and cleanup of the site.

NOFA-NY Annual Organic Farming and Gardening Conference

The 2019 Northeast Organic Farming Association-New York Winter Conference will take place Friday, January 18 - Sunday, January 20, 2019. Whether you're a farmer, gardener, homesteader, or eater, there's something at the conference for you! Visit our conference website to check out the workshops, keynote speakers, and more.

Confirmed Spotted Lanternfly in NY

The New York State Departments of Environmental Conservation (DEC) and Agriculture and Markets (DAM) confirmed that spotted lanternfly (SLF), an invasive pest from Asia, has been found in Albany and Yates counties. A single adult insect was discovered in a vehicle in the Capital District. In addition, a single adult insect was reported on a private Keuka Lake property in Penn Yan, Yates County. At this time, no additional insects have been found. DEC and DAM urge New Yorkers to report potential sightings to spottedlanternfly@dec.ny.gov. This insect is a destructive pest that feeds on more than 70 plant species including tree-of-heaven (Ailanthus altissima), maples, apple trees, grapevine, and hops. A Smartphone application is also available to help citizens and conservation professionals quickly and easily report new invasive species sightings directly to New York's invasive species database from their phones. For more info, visit <http://www.nyimainvasives.org/> (leaves DEC website).

WNY Parks and Trails Benefit from Ralph C. Wilson, Jr. Foundation

In honor of Ralph C. Wilson, Jr.'s 100th birthday, the Ralph C. Wilson, Jr. Foundation announced a $100 million investment in parks and trails in Western New York. The donation will help with improvements in LaSalle Park (to be renamed after Wilson), capital redevelopment and park maintenance and investment in trails and greenways. This gift will ensure that our region's green space and recreational areas are a source of pride and available for all to use.

“Sam Soymilk’s” Journey-Life Cycle of a Carton

The Carton Council documented the journey of a soy milk carton, Sam Soymilk, from the day he's purchased to the day he's transformed into tissue. Enjoy learning about a beverage carton's recycling journey from a fresh perspective! Visit here.

Food Donation and Scrap Laws and Regulations

In partnership with Harvard Food Law & Policy and Center for EcoTechnology, four legal facts sheets have been created to address common legal questions about food donation and food scraps diversion in New York State. These fact sheets should dispel some concerns about liability related to food donations and encourage more businesses to share surplus goods. Food waste is a major environmental issue, so keeping it out of landfills is important. These fact sheets explain both federal and New York State laws and regulations including:

- Tax incentives for food donation
- Liability protections for food donors
- Date labeling requirements for food packaging
- Feeding food scraps to animals

Adopt-a-Horse: Support the Solar-Powered Heritage Carousel

A solar-powered historic carousel is planned for Canalside in 2018. The Buffalo Heritage Carousel, Inc. is currently restoring the 1924 Spillman carousel which features 34 hand carved and painted animals and 3 chariots, with most currently needing restoration. Consider adopting one of the animals or contributing to the efforts of the project. For info, visit <http://buffaloheritagecarousel.org/>

Community Organizations: Do you have a Research Need?

Are you a community partner with a research need? We would love to help connect you to researchers or graduate students who are interested in working to help find local solutions to questions you have or trends you're looking to explore. If you are a researcher or graduate student looking for a project, we can connect you with meaningful research opportunities. Contact buffalocommons@cornell.edu for more info.

One Positive Solution to Marine Pollution: Biodegradable

Plastic debris is known for its harm to marine life, tangling birds' wings, choking marine mammals and distorting the shells of growing sea turtles. Saltwater Brewery, a craft microbrewery in Florida, has worked with a startup E6PR to develop six-pack rings that can either biodegrade or serve as food for wildlife. The rings, made of wheat and barley, are becoming available in south Florida. Learn more at <https://www.e6pr.com/>.

Great Lakes Project Investments Pay Off

A report released by the Great Lakes Commission and others, entitled "Assessing the Investment: The Economic Impact of the Great Lakes Restoration Initiative (GLRI)," quantifies the economic impact of the GLRI using both quantified modeling and case studies that illustrate the benefits for Great Lakes communities. The study can be accessed at: <https://www.glc.org/work/blue-economy/GLRI-economic-impact>. GLRI projects that improved water and natural resources in environmentally degraded communities have included cleanup of pollution contamination, invasive species control, prevention of phosphorus runoff and restoration of shoreline and riparian habitat. Economic benefits identified by the researchers included: job creation, increased tourism and real estate values and increased personal income for Great Lakes residents. Buffalo, NY was one of the eight case studies demonstrating how GLRI translated into local improvements in specific Great Lakes communities. Industrial discharges, combined sewer overflows and inactive hazardous waste sites along the Buffalo River had resulted in poor water quality and very limited use of the waterfront and waterway for recreational purposes. With over $71 million investments from the GLRI, over 500,000 cubic yards of contaminated sediments were dredged from the river, and habitat restoration and invasive species control projects were implemented. Buffalo has since seen a major resurgence in water-based recreation, new residential and commercial development, and a growing millennial population, who are now shaping a different narrative the area than what their grandparents knew. The Buffalo study and other case studies can be accessed at: <https://www.glc.org/work/blue-economy/GLRI-economic-impact/case-studies>.

Electronics Recycling: Collection Events

Sunnking has residential electronic collection events throughout the upstate NY area throughout the year. You can view the first half of 2018's schedule at https://www.sunnking.com/consumer-business/events/!

Reuse Action in Action: Source for Reusable Materials

Reuse Action helps deconstruct buildings to return building materials to the supply chain. Check out the video here for their recent work. The store will also take your used furniture, cabinetry or building supplies. Don't send them to the landfill, donate them to Reuse Action. Check out their website at www.reuseaction.com, call the store at 716-894-3366, or stop by 980 Northampton Street or their new location at East Aurora Flea Market on Big Tree Road, just west of the Village of East Aurora on Saturdays and Sundays. Profits from sales put people to work!

Hemlock Woolly Adelgid Educational Video

The New York State Hemlock Initiative is sharing an educational video to inform the public about their efforts to conserve New York State's hemlock resources in the face of multiple threats, particularly that posed by an invasive pest, the Hemlock Woolly Adelgid. Mortality due to Hemlock Woolly Adelgid (HWA) in New York has increased at an alarming rate recently. For info, visit here. View video at <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=AupnMjYaIQQ>.

New York State Black Bear Study

Staff from DEC's Bureau of Wildlife completed a 4-year black bear population study in collaboration with Cornell University. A total of approximately 240 research sites were deployed on both private and public lands. These sites consisted of a trail camera and barbed wire with bait. The sites were checked every two weeks for photos and hair samples from the barbed wire. The research ended in August. Although DEC has concluded its field efforts, the citizen science project iSeeMammals is still ongoing. Members of the public can contribute data to the research project by submitting pictures and one-time observations of bears and bear sign (scat, tracks, hair, and markings), as well as data from hikes they go on or personal trail cameras they set up. Learn more on the iSeeMammals website.

New Water Pollution Technology Under Development

Scientists at Australia's Edith Cowan University claim to have a new solution to cleanse wastewater with a new degree of efficiency. The breakthrough centers on a fabrication method previously used by the team to develop metallic glasses with a disordered atomic structure that remove impurities from wastewater. This technique was adapted to form what they call crystallized Fe-based ribbons, which are heated in a specific way to form a more ordered atomic structure. This enables electrons within it to move more freely and better bind with pollutants. Read more at <https://newatlas.com/metallic-ribbons-water/56397/>

Join Climate Watch!

Join the 50+ Audubon centers and chapters that are already participating in Audubon's newest community science program, Climate Watch. Climate Watch aims to document how birds are already responding to a changing climate and is a great opportunity to engage people who are concerned about birds and climate change. The next season will take place January 15 to February 15, 2019, and the program depends on skilled and dedicated volunteers like yourselves to organize local and regional efforts so be sure to register a training to learn more about the science behind Climate Watch and how you can get involved as a coordinator or participant. An upcoming coordinator web training will be October 3 at 4pm. Register in advance.

Humorous Video on Plastics Recycling Confusion

You can view a short humorous recycling video at <https://livegreen.recyclebank.com/earn-points/recycling-plastic-cups-it-s-easier-than-you-think>.

DEC Announces Fourth Round of E-Waste Recycling Grants for Municipalities

A fourth round of grant funding from the Environmental Protection Fund (EPF) is being made available to help municipalities across the State address costs associated with the collection and recycling of eligible electronic wastes (e-waste). DEC will accept applications for these grants in January 2019. Approximately $900,000 is available for the 2018 funding period (January 1, 2018 - December 31, 2018). DEC will accept applications for this funding opportunity beginning January 1, 2019, and no later than February 28, 2019. New York's Electronic Equipment Recycling and Reuse Act, requires electronic equipment manufacturers to offer consumers programs to collect and recycle e-waste such as computers, laptops, printers, monitors, keyboards, video game consoles, keyboards, televisions, and other small electronic equipment and has diverted more than 520 million pounds of e-waste from landfills for reuse and recycling between 2011 and 2016. As technology advances, the amount of e-waste consumers generate continues to grow. These grants will help mitigate financial pressures some local governments face in collecting and properly managing e-waste. DEC's Household Hazardous Waste Assistance Program will continue to administer the grant application process. Municipalities may receive reimbursement of up to 50 percent of eligible expenses incurred for recycling of e-waste between January 1, 2018, through December 31, 2018. Application materials, guidance documents, and important information for Electronic Waste Assistance Grants are available on DEC's website.

Current NY Environmental Bills List

Every week during the New York State Legislative Session, Environmental Advocates of New York reviews all of the bills introduced in legislative committees or on the floor of the State Senate and the Assembly. They then issue a memo that summarizes the legislation and describes our position on measures with significant environmental impact. If you would like to sign up for this listing, you can see the status of New York State legislation and can take action on those that are important to you. <http://www.eany.org/our-work/bill-ratings>

New Our Farms, Our Future Podcast Series: Voices in Sustainable Agriculture

From coast to coast, a diverse community of farmers, ranchers, scientists and educators is working to shape a sustainable future for our food system. Listen to the new Our Farms, Our Future podcast series and join this community for intimate conversations about the state of agriculture, how we got here and where we're headed.

NYSERDA Farm Energy Audits

NYSERDA offers free energy audits to identify energy efficiency measures for eligible farms and on-farm producers, including but not limited to: dairies, orchards, greenhouses, vegetable growers, vineyards, grain dryers, and poultry/egg. Farms must be customers of a New York State investor-owned utility and contribute to the System Benefits Charge (SBC). Please check your farm's current electricity bills to determine if you pay SBC. Farms can request an energy audit through the Agriculture Energy Audit Program. NYSERDA will assign a Flexible Technical Assistance (FlexTech) Consultant to perform an energy audit.

Plan Ahead for Nature Trips

Earth Spirit Education is offering summer and winter 2019 wildlife adventures. In August, 2019, they have trips planned for Yellowstone National Park and the Adirondacks. A December, 2019 excursion to Yellowstone will feature wolves, wildlife and predation. Info and registration at <https://earthspiritedu.org/excursions/>

Rechargeable Batteries: What do I do with them when they no longer charge?

Different battery sizes and materials make recycling and/or recharging problematic. For batteries that are marked as rechargeable, they can be recycled at most retail locations that sell them, and retailers are required to provide signage and collection containers in easily accessible locations. Consumers are encouraged to utilize these take-back programs. Types of rechargeable batteries covered by the NYS Rechargeable Battery Law include Ni-Cd, sealed lead, Li-ion, Ni-MH, any other such dry cell battery capable of being recharged and battery packs containing any of the previously mentioned batteries. You can also check with your municipality or local recycling coordinator to see if any special programs are being offered in your area. Organizations and businesses can purchase a box to collect used batteries and then the box can be mailed back to the company for recycling. For non-rechargeable batteries, there is not currently a mandated take-back recycling program. Consumers can inquire with their local municipality or local recycling coordinator to see if any special programs are being offered in their area. Otherwise, non-rechargeable, single-use batteries may be put in your regular household trash and should not be taken to drop-off events.

Business Membership Program to Encourage Greener Commuting

Go Buffalo Niagara, a Transportation Management Association serving Erie and Niagara Counties, has launched a business membership program which encourages people to commute without a car. Once a business is signed up, its employees who choose to walk, carpool, bike, or take public transit to work will have access to myriad alternative transportation incentives, such as: discounted transit passes and preferred parking for carpools, guaranteed ride home which provides those who don't drive alone with a free ride home in case of emergencies, discounted memberships to GObike Buffalo and Reddy Bikeshare and monthly raffles for commuters who log their commute trips.

Webinar: NYSERDA-funded Clean Heating and Cooling Campaigns

The Climate Smart Communities webinar series continues in October with a presentation on Thursday October 11 from 10:30am to noon about NYSERDA's Clean Heating and Cooling Campaign initiative. Speakers will include Scott Smith and Sue Dougherty from NYSERDA. The Clean Heating and Cooling Community Campaign initiative brings together groups of potential customers so they can obtain discounts for air and ground source heat pumps, biomass heating, and solar heating through aggregated purchases and a simplified procurement process. It is also designed to educate and increase the awareness and knowledge of clean heating and cooling technologies among consumers. On this webinar, you'll learn about the first eight clean heating and cooling communities and the \$2 million available for new communities. Proposals are due 10/30/18. If you plan to attend, please provide your name, email, and community affiliation to the DEC Office of Climate Change at climatechange@dec.ny.gov or 518-402-8448. In the event that we postpone the webinar, respondents will be notified. Registration is recommended but not required. To join the webinar, go to the link, enter name and email along with password NYSDEC1.

Electric Vehicle Charging

Want to learn more about electric vehicles and how you can recharge them at home? Have your questions answered so you can make informed choices for future vehicle purchases. Info at Home charging for e-vehicles.

Geothermal Heating and Cooling, Domestic Hot Water: No Money Down

GroundUp: Geothermal Alliance of Western New York is leading the charge to bring Geothermal Heating and Cooling into every home in Western New York with its new $128/month and $0 money down financing option. This offer is for any qualifying homeowner looking to build a new home or replace their existing heating and cooling system in their current home, and usually covers houses up to 4,000 sqf with good insulation. The New York State Energy Research and Development Authority (NYSERDA) has up to $15 million available through June 2019 for the installation of ground source heat pump systems for residences, businesses and institutions. Rebates are available to qualified installers for two years or until all funds have been exhausted. The rebate will be deducted from the total cost of the system, thereby passing the savings along directly to consumers. To learn more about this new low-cost financing option, contact <https://www.groundupgeo.org/contact>.

Your Guide to Farmer Grants in the Northeast

Farm Credit East compiled a comprehensive report of farming grants offered in the northeast. The report is organized by first listing federal/regional grants, and then by state. Specific states include: Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, and Rhode Island. However, federal resources are applicable to all farmers. Review here.

Calling all NY State School Teachers and After School Program Leaders!

The New York Connect Kids to Parks Field Trip Grant Program will refund up to $1,000 of field trip costs per classroom, per trip to DEC or State Parks land. Grants are available on a first come, first served basis. Grants refund field trip costs including transportation, program fees, entry fees, and/or pavilion fees, but cannot reimburse chaperones who travel separately. Students can explore New York's natural and historic heritage by planning now and booking your field trip to a state park, state park nature center, state historic site or DEC environmental education center, fish hatchery, or other DEC lands! This program is available to any public school in a district with a Title 1 school (grades pre-K through 12 including school-sponsored clubs). Also, Advantage After School Programs, 21st Century Community Learning Centers, Empire State After School Programs, and municipal recreation programs in communities with Title 1 schools are eligible to apply. Learn more at Connect Kids to Parks Field Trip Grant Program and view the application online. If you have questions, please call (518) 474-6736.

Going Strong: Every Kid in a Park (EKiP) Launches its Fourth Year

A $10,000 grant from the National Park Foundation supports Erie Canalway's partnership with national parks to participate in the Every Kid in a Park program. The grant covers transportation costs and program fees for fourth graders taking field trips to national parks in the Erie Canalway National Heritage Corridor, ensuring that all students are able to participate. Students also receive a one year pass to any national park across the country. Erie Canalway also provides transportation grants to schools to visit canal heritage sites through our Ticket to Ride program. The long-term commitment by National Park Foundation and other supporters to Erie Canalway's Every Kid in a Park and Ticket to Ride programs has resulted in more than 42,000 students having a field trip experience. Learn more and register!

The 2019 Erie County Rain Barrel Painting Contest is in full swing!

Open to schools and student-based community groups in Erie and Niagara counties, this painting contest is held annually in honor of Earth Day. Paint your rain barrel focusing on a theme of stormwater pollution prevention and/or recycling rainwater. All participating schools will retain their final painted rain barrels to use, donate or raffle as desired. We encourage teachers to incorporate environmental lessons in the classroom wherever possible on conserving resources, recycling rainwater, stormwater pollution prevention, and reusing materials for a sustainable planet. To register, please visit <http://www.erie.gov/rainbarrelcontest>.

Teacher's Resources

World Climate Simulation is a NSF-funded, research-based program gives educators a way to provide learners with an enjoyable meaningful experience and to make a difference in the real world.

Orangutan Gang-Lesson includes an introductory video, PowerPoint presentation, discussion, informative article and corresponding short-answer questions, and homework including online research and an activity with the goal of helping students realize just how much palm oil they use in their everyday lives.

New GPS-STEM Lessons-Engage formal and informal students in real-world applications of STEM concepts inspired by GPS.

Soil Story Curriculum-Kiss the Ground's middle school curriculum aims to foster a deeper understanding of the vital role soil plays for the planet and to inspire a new generation of people to better engage with the environment and their communities.

The Blossoms, the Birds and the Bees: a pollination investigation for Pre-K - Grade 2-This playful lesson plan includes three hands-on activities designed to grow young learners' understanding of the relationships between plants and pollinators, and spark their interest in these important living things. Students will play a matching game to discover why hummingbirds, bees, and butterflies choose the flowers they do, "fly" pollinators around the classroom in search of nectar, and use their senses to explore diversity in nature. This lesson plan is made to be adapted, and includes suggestions for extensions and additions to fit the needs of every classroom.

Animals and Plants Can Live in a City for Grades K-2. Students learn that animals need air, food, water, and shelter, while plants need air, sunlight, and water. Students watch videos and engage with drawing and sorting activities to reinforce their learning.

How Disruptions Affect Animal Populations for Grades 6-9. Students explore the effects that ecosystem disruptions can have on animal populations and the impacts that a shift in the population of one animal can have on others in an ecosystem.

Deciding Your City's Energy Future for Grades 9-12. Students watch videos adapted from NOVA: Treasures of the Earth: Power and analyze data provided in graphs and maps concerning the availability, cost, reliability, and environmental impact of different energy sources.

The Frogs of Panama- Engage students in authentic science research or explore biodiversity and conservation issues in the classroom with outreach materials developed by scientists/educators studying frogs at the Smithsonian Tropical Research Institute in Panama.

Climate Change Timeline describe early science leading up to the discovery of climate change.

Climate Change Interactives allows users to enter their location and see some of the direct local effects likely with climate change.

Educator's Guide to Marine Debris- also available in Spanish, easy-to-use guide is designed to provide maximum flexibility for educators in both formal and informal settings.

Educational apps for Middle and High School Students

Education apps for Elementary Students

DEC's I Fish NY Program's K-12 lesson plans about fishing, including specific ones for outside the classroom

DEC's Environmental Education K-12 lesson plans

Educational Resources on Black Bears contains 29 lessons for students in kindergarten through 8th grade. The self-contained computer program is full of puzzles, computer games, special bear movies, quizzes, and interactive learning activities.

The Northern Forest Atlas is a free, online resource cataloging the plant diversity of the Northern Forest (NY, ME, NH, VT, MI, MN, MA). Includes stunning photos, charts, and videos.

Five Gyres Curriculum -Next Generation Science Standards (NGSS) Educational Curriculum, piloting on Lonely Whale's Catch the Wave platform.

LearnHowToBecome.org is a comprehensive website for students and other young professionals to find and explore resources related to a variety of careers. It includes sections on career types and paths, colleges, online education, and a resource center.

KoiKiwi is an educational website with fun environmentally friendly games. Play puzzle games, action games, shooting games (shooting GHG molecules for instance!), rubbish cleaning games, recycling games and others.

Using Environmental Issues Forums \(EIF\) to Enhance Deliberation: Case Studies-This publication documents, through a series of case studies how educators have developed locally relevant EIF materials, reflect on their experiences holding forums for a variety of audiences, and report assessment results.

EPA Activity Book for Elementary Age Students-How do you describe to students what the EPA does? This newest activity book for elementary age students to help introduce them to EPA. Kids can learn about the different ways the EPA works to protect our environment and our health. It's a simple, straightforward guide suitable for children of all ages.

Botany Primer: Understanding Botany for Nature's Notebook- designed to help observers make reliable plant observations for submission to the Nature's Notebook citizen and professional science program. It covers basic botany, phenology vocabulary and the USA-NPN's plant phenophases. It is also very appropriate for those interested in simply learning more about botanical terms and concepts, separate from participation in Nature's Notebook.

Solar Ovens & Design Critiques-In this unit, students design, build, and test solar ovens.

Conservation Connect is a web-based video series produced by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, National Conservation Training Center (NCTC). Our goal is to connect a new generation of conservationists, ages 8-16, with the great outdoors, wildlife species, and conservation careers. Conservation Connect is available to youth groups, schools, homeschoolers, nature centers, and other educational programs throughout the country, free of charge.

Humpback whale activity books- Learn about whales and their migration.

How can teachers get students to learn science from each other-By communicating science, students can reinforce and help others learn.

Sky, Water, Earth: self-paced online science activities for youth- collection of free, online, self-paced activities that are designed for youth between the ages of 16-22 who are interested in the field of science.

High School Teacher's Guide for Climate Choices: How should we meet the challenges of a warming planet?

Middle School Teacher's Guide for Climate Choices : How should we meet the challenges of a warming planet?

Project GRACE- To prepare youth in economically disadvantaged communities for the prospect of careers in science, technology, engineering, or mathematics (STEM) through Geographic Information Systems (GIS).

FoodSpan is a free, downloadable curriculum that provides high school students with a deep understanding of critical food system issues, empowers them to make healthy and responsible food choices, and encourages them to become advocates for food system change.

Climate Change and the Water Cycle: Four Big Questions Answered-Free e-book. Dramatic changes to our planet like glaciers calving into the sea and record-setting temperatures make front page headlines around the world. But while other disruptions caused by the climate crisis – such as the transformation of our planet's water cycle – are a little less immediately striking, they can be even more profound and far-reaching. The consequences can also seem confusing and contradictory. How is it even possible that climate change increases our risk of both heavy rains and extreme droughts?

PollinatorLIVE: A Distance Learning Adventure- resource that aims to meet national science education standards and promoting conservation action through education. PollinatorLIVE has lesson plans, web seminars, and information to increase the understanding of pollinators and their importance.

Nature's Lights explores how light is essential in the natural world, and how and why animals that live in the dark produce light via bioluminescence so that they can find food and communicate with others.

Guess the Pollinator is a fun creative activity which teaches students that certain animals have preferences for a flower type, color, shape or smell. Using the Coloring Sheets, students will colour in a chosen flower, then use the facts written underneath to match their flower up with its pollinator.

Design a Flower teaches students about what pollination is and how it happens. Using what they learned, students will then receive a card with a specific pollinator on it and will be asked to design the perfect flower for them.

Seeing Red teaches students about frequencies of light and how different colored light is absorbed or transmitted by colored filters. They will also discover how some animals use bioluminescence and color perception to outsmart prey.

Materials Science and the Problem of Garbage-Equip students to make informed choices about materials use and disposal with a series of lessons in which they investigate the technological and engineering ingenuity involved in making materials—and also the environmental ramifications.

Water Agriculture Sustainability-InTeGrate provides this three to five-week module that provides a framework for students to learn about how people interact with water, peer into our water future, and consider ways we might foster more sustainability in water management. After assessing our major water challenges, the module has students learn about the concepts of water sustainability, virtual water trade, and water footprints. The focus then turns to the interplay between agriculture and water resources, as agriculture has the greatest impact on freshwater consumption and quality.

Remember the Rainforest-free resources for K-12 with images of rainforest ecosystems for awareness.

Cornell Webinars -Our free webinar series covers topics like bird-friendly gardens and bird communication.

Book Guide for On Bird Hill- Our free guide for grades K–2 turn this charming book into lessons in science, art, math, and literacy.

Edible Learning Lab-curriculum allow kids (K-12) to manage the food production process from "Lab to Table".

PLT Online Professional Development for GreenSchools-6 learning hours of professional development for formal and informal educators.

Green Schools Membership- Free for Teachers, educators, students, and administrators. Access to lots of resources.

Greening STEM -infographics, toolkits, activity guides, and video resources contain free educational material in popular environmental topic areas that incorporate elements of STEM. Many of the activities and resources include project-based learning, service-learning, and citizen science components.

Flipside Science is a youth-powered series that tackles complex environmental topics and empowers viewers to make a difference. This engaging and upbeat collection of videos, hosted by California Academy of Sciences youth, explores how local communities are addressing environmental problems.

Sustainability in Schools Simulation Game- The Education for Sustainability program has designed a simulation game to show how to identify sustainability related projects that make financial sense and weave them together into a coherent strategy that takes advantage of synergies. It also shows how to use those projects in curriculum.

Cool Science Jobs provides real stories about “cool” jobs using science to help inspire the next generation. They also include vocabulary and can be used as mini-lessons in the classroom.

Keep Wild Animals Wild lesson plans, videos and worksheets provide everything educators need to introduce students to what makes wild animals wild, why wildlife trade is a big threat not just to animals and ecosystems, but to people too, and how to help keep wild animals wild.

Black bear curriculum - provides of free multimedia resources on black bears for educators and students.

12 Pathways to Greening Your School is designed for you to use September - June (1-10) with two serving as year-round learning tools. But, you can put them in any order that aligns with your program. If you'd like to have access to all of these Pathways please become a FREE MEMBER NOW!

Faces of EPA-Learn about careers in the EPA and get to know EPA staff. The videos spotlight employees ranging from special agents, to ocean explorers, and others as they explain their career paths and passion for their work.

Project Localize is a customizable curriculum to explore sustainability locally while building knowledge and skills in research, math science, digital technologies, and art through project-based learning. Students participate in field trips to visit local food producers as they employ journalistic practice in gathering the information for their artwork.

Raptors in the City is a real-time, inquiry-based science program that stars the peregrine falcon. The peregrine has recovered from near extinction and was removed from the Endangered Species list in 1999. The program guides children through nesting season as they watch the still rare falcons live via cameras mounted on a skyscraper.

Getting the Picture: Our Changing Climate-The adventures of scientist-photographer James Balog and the Chasing Ice team come to life in a newly released climate science education resource which provides a unique, interactive, multimedia experience for students and educators to learn about the latest climate science and witness real-world changes occurring around the world.

SMILE: New STEM Activities for Educators is an award-winning, free access collection of nearly 4,000 STEM education activities. Many activities are grouped by topics with environmental themes including energy, climate, life sciences, and ocean literacy. Activities are also aligned with standards and principles such as the Climate Literacy Principles, Ocean Literacy Principles, and U.S. DOE Energy Literacy framework.

Free ArcGIS for K-12 -Esri is providing free ArcGIS Online subscriptions for use for all K-12 schools. Resources to help schools get started with ArcGIS Online are available here.

The CLEAN (Climate Literacy and Energy Awareness Network) collection is a searchable database for teachers to find online activities, videos, and graphics on climate and energy education. Teachers may sign up for the newsletter with updates on educational policies, discussions with experts, events, and weekly telecons.

"Appetite for Adventure: Exploring Global Food Sustainability"- This standards aligned, multimedia presentation will showcase cutting-edge sustainable food projects from around the world, introducing students to the local and global connections between food production, consumption, and climate change.

Architecture 2030 is appropriate for Grades 9-12. Learn about this architect's efforts to protect the environment by changing the way buildings are planned, designed, and constructed.

Bird Sleuth for K-12. Kits and resources for learning more about birds.

The New Normal – Preparing for climate change impacts on supply chain management- 9:00 am - 11:00 am at the Buffalo Zoo. Business supply chains involve a web of third parties, including product distributors, service providers, manufacturers, contractors, and logistics firms that store and move materials. All of them are dependent on their own infrastructure, transportation and supply networks. When climate change or extreme weather impacts a part of your supply chain, the domino effect can ultimately impact your ability to provide products and services to your customers. So what are the risks today and in the future? How can your business prepare for sudden environmental shocks and slow on-set disasters? How do you know if your suppliers are prepared? How can you detect supplier issues? The panel of experts will include both researchers and local businesses working to understand the risks and adapt to the new normal of supply chain management. Register at event.

Sunday, November 18

Wheel Maintenance-Go Bike Buffalo Class from 6-7:30pm. This class will give you the knowledge you need to keep your ride rolling. Students will learn about proper frame, brake, and drive train maintenance as well as how to asses and describe common problems. Students are encouraged to bring their own bicycles to work on. Cost for classes is $10 and most classes are limited to 10 people. Please RSVP to stacy@gobikebuffalo.org at least TWO days prior to class if you plan to attend. 98 Colvin Ave., Buffalo. Guest Speaker is Walter Simpson. Walter is co-founder of the Animal Advocates of WNY and an energy and climate expert. He will explain the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change's 2018 report and our best options to avoid catastrophic climate disruption for people and animals too. Please don't bring jello or marshmallows since they contain gelatin, which is a meat product.

Annual Vegan Thanksgiving Potluck Dinner-5:30pm at Unitarian Universalist Church of Amherst, 6320 Main Street, Williamsville. The dinner is a fun(d)-raiser for the Animal Advocates of WNY. Suggested donation $10 adults; $5 students and seniors, $2 children 10 and younger - Plus bring a VEGAN dish to pass.

RESERVATIONS ARE REQUIRED - Please call Nan and Walter Simpson, 839-0062. Each person's food offering should be large enough to provide servings for at least 6 to 8 people. Please bring cold dishes cold and hot dishes hot, and serving utensils if possible. If you'd like, please bring your recipes to share. Our dinner will again be vegan which means no dairy or eggs in addition to no flesh foods (meat, fish or fowl). A vegan dinner means all food will be cruelty-free and everyone can eat everything! If you need help with recipe ideas or substitutions, call Nan Simpson at the number above. It's easy to use soy margarine and soy milk in recipes, traditional Thanksgiving side dishes, pasta and rice dishes, or vegan desserts. In the spirit of Thanksgiving sharing, you are welcome to bring a non-perishable (dry or canned – no glass please) food donation for people or pets for the Amherst Little Free Pantry hosted by the UU Church of Amherst.

Please RSVP to stacy@gobikebuffalo.org at least TWO days prior to class if you plan to attend. 98 Colvin Ave., Buffalo.

Tips for the Environment:

- 1. Start a "Scrap" Bag- Toss unwanted vegetable pieces such as mushroom stems, onion skins and carrot peels into a large freezer bag. When it's filled, add scraps to a pot with water, simmer for about 30 minutes, and you'll have fresh vegetable stock.
- 2. Recycle pens, wine corks, baby food pouches, e-cigarettes and more- Terracycle makes it easy to collect and recycle products that no one else seems to want. Their mail-in system is easy. Check out the process and items that you can collect at <https://www.terracycle.com/en-US>

Remember the 4 R's: Reduce, Reuse, Recycle, Repair

By Lesley Haynes

I love this time of year with the beauty of the red, orange and yellow foliage of autumn; however, I also have a feeling of sadness as we prepare for the colder climate ahead. By November 1st the local outdoor farmer's markets close down, and I miss my weekly visits to buy their products.

In the United States, foods travel an average of 1,300 miles from the field to the table, using a large amount of fuel during their transport. Purchasing locally cuts down on the distance food travels, thus reducing the consumption of oil and carbon emissions nationwide. The benefits of buying organic are obvious (no pesticides or herbicides). When consciously buying locally, you ensure that more of your money spent on food goes to the farmer. Buying local also keeps your dollars circulating in your own community. Farmers Markets have experienced a growth over the years and are continuing to increase. I recently read that the organic food industry has risen from sales of $1 billion in 2001, to $24 billion in 2018.

Why not take the time to set new, environmentally friendly, traditions as we celebrate Thanksgiving this month? Check with the farms in your area for your traditional turkey. Ask if any hormones or antibiotics have been pumped in the bird. Also, ask if it's range free, which means the turkey is allowed to go outdoors and see the light of day. If the farm passes all these tests, then order a fresh turkey to be picked up, usually the day before Thanksgiving. If this is not an option, try finding an all-natural turkey at a local market. The Lexington Co-op on Elmwood Ave in Buffalo usually stocks such turkeys. Remember to place your turkey order well ahead of time to ensure you have one to cook.

To liven up your Thanksgiving dinner, add a few decorative touches on the table. Purchase a tablecloth of a seasonal color, which you can wash and reuse for years to come. Use cloth napkins, silverware and glasses - all of which can be washed, thus reducing waste in landfills.

Fresh local vegetables are always the best so look for seasonal veggies such as butternut squash, peas, green onions, potatoes and sweet potatoes. If you are too overwhelmed to bake, go to an organic bakery and order fresh pies.

Remember that going green on Thanksgiving doesn't have to be complicated. Stick to the dinner basics and get the children to help decorate. From cooking an organic menu to making your own decorations, Thanksgiving is an opportunity to get the whole family involved in a green lifestyle. An organic Thanksgiving feast is not only healthy and tasty, but can also help the environment. Free-range turkey, fresh vegetables from local farmers, and treats from the organic bakery are just a few choices for your healthy cornucopia of food this year.

Make a commitment to recycle. Make sure you are properly recycling all the paper and plastic used at your Thanksgiving festivities. Decorating your living and dining space with soy candles is an eco-friendly option, and you'll find plenty of fragrant pillar or floating candles to complement your table.

Teach your children to carry the work of conservation forward; the next generation must absorb its lessons. Encourage them to read on the subject, and persuade their teachers to include ecological studies in their curricula. Above all, show them by example how to reuse, recycle, avoid waste, and care.

Happy Thanksgiving!

Together we can make a difference"
