Dear Colleagues,

As you know, we have been conducting a national search for a vice president for enrollment management to succeed Dr. Patricia Ruppert Brown, who will retire on May 1. On the recommendation of the search committee chair, Dr. Gregory Naylor, I am temporarily suspending the search and will resume it in the summer, which I am informed will be the ideal time to attract a broad range of strong candidates to fill this important role.

In the interim, I am delighted to announce that Frank Williams has agreed to serve as interim vice president for enrollment management until a permanent replacement has been named. His appointment is effective March 1, which will provide the opportunity for Dr. Brown to be available during this transition period.

Frank's extensive experience at Daemen and his proven leadership skills and talents will be valuable in continuing our progress in our admissions and enrollment efforts.

Please join me in congratulating Frank on his appointment to this important leadership role:
